Mayor's Message

These are tough times, and the nation's economy is struggling. But in spite of any silly rumors that you may have heard to the contrary, the city's finances are sound. We are not behind on any payments, we are not facing foreclosure, our checks are not bouncing. It's always amusing to hear the rumors and speculation, but rest assured, our circumstances are not at all dire. We're practicing careful management and our department heads and employees are pinching every penny, stretching every dollar, and allowing us as a city to weather the storm.

Still, we are facing some tough choices in the coming weeks and months. The city council is considering changes to our water rate schedule to help us return to a break-even state, and preparing to adopt an austere new budget for the coming fiscal year. We are also preparing for a "Truth in Taxation" hearing in August and, like almost every city in the state, reluctantly anticipate it may be necessary to temporarily raise taxes to get us through the coming year.

But don't forget that on the bright side, we're looking forward to our garbage toter experiment in August that might help us avoid a significant rate increase. And we've had a few nibbles as we cast about trying to entice some retail businesses to locate here. Best of all, I was told today by a Realty Association official there are positive signs on the home construction front, and there may be some light at the end of that tunnel. So stay tuned.

As we prepared a new budget for the upcoming fiscal year, our department heads were asked to cut their proposed spending, and then cut it again. And, after those cuts, I asked for an additional 10% across the board cut. We'll be voting to adopt that new budget soon. Please know that there will be nothing extravagant in the budget we will adopt for the coming year. We are continuing to look for ways to save, and appreciate those of you who have contacted us with suggestions. We will consider every suggestion carefully and implement any that turn out to be do-able.

The new water rates are being carefully calculated to not only encourage conservation, but also to as much as possible protect our struggling seniors and those on fixed incomes. I've asked that a new tier be built into the rate schedule that can cushion the impact to those households with only one or two members, who use the least water. This will give most of our seniors at least some measure of control over how much they will pay for their water. Although this tier is designed with small households in mind, anyone can take advantage of it, and we encourage everyone to begin at once to conserve this precious resource and minimize the amount they will pay. Regrettably, we anticipate we will need to adjust water rates again next year to help pay for the pressurized irrigation system we can not avoid installing. But we hope that beginning now to conserve will make next years adjustment easier to adapt to.

For many years, it has been the city's intention to found its own library. Those who are new to the community may not realize the library currently housed in our Community Center is not operated by the city. It is actually the Utah County Bookmobile collection, and we've been very fortunate to have it housed here for the past fifteen or more years. During that time, many of our residents have devoted countless hours working toward creating our own library. Thousands of books and other materials have been donated to us and are currently in storage for safekeeping. It has been tentatively anticipated for some time that the coming fiscal year would be the right time for the city to begin committing the funds to get our library up and running, so that we could soon become eligible for grants and other funding from sources outside the city. The city council will have to determine over the next few weeks if we should go ahead with this project.

City Newsletter

July 2008 Edition

A city library that we control would be a tremendous asset and would provide incalculable benefits. It's been shown we can predict our future prison population based on current literacy levels. Besides improving literacy and providing hours of enjoyment, our own library would serve as the heart of our city. It would become a gathering place, a venue for cultural and educational events, and the stuff of which many happy memories are made. I am sure most of you recall, as I do, visiting your community library as a child and delighting in what seemed a never-ending supply of books that you took home and read under the covers with a flashlight long after you were supposed to be sleeping. We all want our children to develop a similar love for books and for learning. But times are tough. Whether to fund the library now or not will be a hard decision for the city council to make. It would be helpful for them and for me to know how you as taxpayers feel about taking on this commitment at this time, or choosing to postpone it for a year or even indefinitely. If you'd like to share your thoughts on this, please email me at mayor@mapleton.org and I will forward your comments to the city council. We will consider your wishes very carefully.

We will be having a special Public Meeting on July 9th at which time we will be discussing the Library, water fees, and a number of other issues. It will be a good opportunity to ask questions and voice opinions. Please mark your calendars and plan to be there.

With that, I hope you are all enjoying the summer and happily anticipating the upcoming holiday, particularly July 24th. We hope you'll join us for the parade and festivities at the park, and later for the evening events and fireworks!

24th of July Grand Marshals

Nino and Arlene Antonino have been selected as the Grand Marshals of the annual Mapleton 24th of July parade. Their story together began some sixty nine years ago when they actually met as a result of the Mapleton July 24th celebration. Arlene, who was 12, built and decorated a wagon for the parade and Nino who was then 13 pulled it for her!

Nino and Arlene have both been great examples of service to the community and to family. They were married on April 30th, 1947 and are the proud parents of 6 children, Vicky Lee, Gary Lynn, Paul, Cynthia, Brent and Judy. They have 21 grandchildren and 25 (almost) great-grandchildren! Their home at 745 East 1200 North was built in 1894 and was once a social center where dances and parties were held in Mapleton. Nino’s father bought the home in 1929 and it has been in their family ever since.

Nino was born in Rolab, located in Carbon County. His dad emigrated from Italy and worked in a coal mine there. They later moved to Mapleton and Nino attended Springville High where he enjoyed playing Football until he was injured. He quit school in the 10th grade in order to work on the 39 acre family farm where they grew and sold peaches. He served in the military during WWII from 1944-1946 as a part of the Signal Corp in the Pacific. When Nino was first married he worked at Smart’s Feed in Springville and then as a Hot Plant operator at Thorn’s Construction, where he worked for 20 years. He then worked at Givens and Reed building power plants and later at Morris and Knudson where he retired some 21 years ago. But retirement hasn’t meant sitting still for Nino. Perhaps you have had flowers delivered to your door by a friendly smiling face who delivered flowers for many years for Steiner’s Flower shop in Springville! If you ask Nino what his hobbies are he might say hunting, fishing, & golfing. But I think you would have to include the service he has loved for over 18 years of coaching Little League.

Arlene grew up in Springville as a Snell but later as a Whiting. She went to Jr. High and had classes with Nino. They enjoyed roller skating together and attended Springville High. Arlene enjoyed being a full time mom and raising her 6 children in Mapleton. She worked at JC Penney in Provo as an operator for 5 years and also 5 years at H&R block. In 1979 she served as the PTA President for Mapleton School. During that time she spent many hours canvassing the town for support and was very instrumental in keeping Mapleton School from closing. Both she and Nino were active charter members in the JC’s where they have done a lot of civic work putting up street signs, developing Little league parks, building the fire station, and the open fire place in the park. They have also been active in the LDS church, Arlene has served in various callings. She was secretary in the YWMIA, Sunday school secretary; she taught in the Primary and the Sunday school and was also! Cub Scout Leader. Nino who was born Catholic, was baptized after all his children were born, by his son Gary in 1971 and has served as Scout Master, Explorer and Cub Scout leader and now works in the Temple every Friday.

It is an honor to recognize the Antonino’s as the Grand Marshals of the Mapleton City 24th of July celebration and for their many years of dedication and service to our community!
